Brand introduction:

On November 8, 2022, BYD officially announced its high-end car brand in Shenzhen and named it Looking Up.

In the wave of global automobile reform, China Automobile is accelerating its rise. It is hoped that it will build brands and products with subversive technology and forward-looking design, and strive to bring unprecedented new experience of extreme performance to users. Looking forward to becoming the representative and benchmark of high-end automobile brands in China, and bravely standing in the forefront.

On November 24, 2022, BYD's million-level high-end brand looked up to the first model and exposed the latest spy photos.

The model was internally code-named R1, positioning the new energy hard-core off-road.

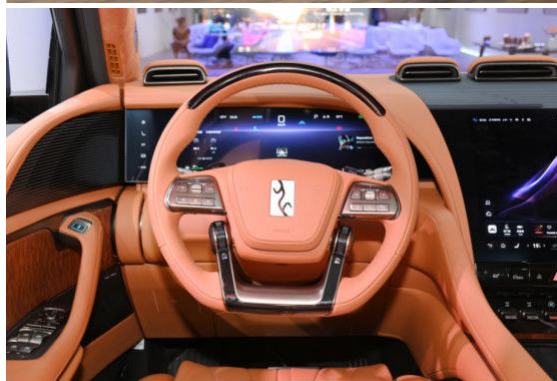

On December 8, 2022, BYD's million-dollar luxury brand "Looking Up" announced its brand logo today. Officials said that the brand logo was inspired by Oracle Bone Inscriptions's "Electricity".

On January 1st, 2023, BYD will release its brand-new high-end brand Look Up on January 5th, and release the first model Look Up R1(R1 is the internal code of the car). At present, the latest preview of the car has been exposed.

On January 5, 2023, the brand and technology conference of "Dare to Leap the Milky Way" was held in Shenzhen, and the brand-new high-end automobile brand Wangwang and its core technology "Easy Sifang" were officially released.

Looking up is not only a gesture, but also represents the fearless spirit of exploration.
